

Train the Trainer

Professional Certificate in Training Design & Delivery

Having your own in-house trainers can save your business valuable time and money and enables your team to create bespoke training courses aligned to your business strategy. Our People 1st Licensed programme is internationally recognised and will teach your trainers how to design and deliver effective, interactive training sessions to groups of people, and tailor it for individuals. Providing them team with everything they need to deliver effective 21st century learner-led training.

Who should attend?

- Trainers who want to adopt a structured approach to the training design, delivery, and evaluation as a new or experienced trainer.
- Those who want to develop their training skills and techniques to become a 'learner led' trainer.
- Those who are required to train others and taking their first steps towards becoming a full-time trainer.

The programme would also support people who are being trained to deliver pre-written training programmes.

What are the benefits?

- Confidence in the ability to design and deliver highly effective training.
- Hands on experience in delivering training with feedback from peers and a training expert.
- Internationally Certified learning - those that successfully pass the assessment will receive an e-certificate to validate their skills as an effective trainer.
- We can help you and your team to effectively design, deliver and evaluate highly participative training sessions which add value to your business.
- Your team will have a deepened understanding of how their own learners learn as well as being able to adapt their style for the different learning styles.

What will the learning experience include?

The 5 Day Programme will focus on group delivery with a section acknowledging the changes that are required for 121 interactions. The programme covers: -

- Planning Training
- Developing Training Content
- Delivering Training
- Assessing Learners
- Reflecting
- Measuring

Participants will be assessed by writing a short session plan which they will be required to deliver as a microteach to their peers.

We recognise that the most important asset to any business is the people in it and that's why all of our learning workshops can be developed to meet your individual employee's needs.

This workshop will cost £1,500 per person for a maximum of 6 delegates, to be delivered in-house at a venue of your choice.
